Remarkable Showing Made By Shooting Squad

FIVE HOLLAND POLICE DO WELL AT MEETING OF STATE MARKSMEN

Were Tremendously Handicapped At The Start, Being Placed In Detroit Class

Holland sent five good men from the department to Lansing a few days ago in order to participate in the marksmen's tournament as this relates to officers of the law. A great many cities were represented and Holland was about the smallest city as to population, but not as to marksmanship.

The men from Holland who went to Lansing, together with Chief Frank Van Ry, were Jack Van Hoff, Jim Spruit, Neil Plagenhoef, Ben Kalkman and Ernest Bear. The first handicap that the Holland shooting squad bumped up against was that they were placed in Class A with the Detroit, Grand Rapids and the whole State Police force, instead of being in a class with Kalamazoo, Jackson, Muskegon, Flint, Saginaw and several cities much larger than Holland. The referees had their attention called to this unusual procedure, but they failed or would not change the arrangement, so the Holland men had to compete with the pick from Detroit's 1000 policemen, Grand Rapids' 250 officers and the whole Michigan State Police with its crack shots, while Holland's firing squad of five were picked from eight men which constitute our entire force.

The second handicap came when the gun of Jack Van Hoff jammed, which often happens, and he failed to raise his hand and call out "alibi," a feature in the shoot, of which Jack had not been advised. That lost him a couple of scores, in fact, the Holland men were not aware of this ruling since they were new at collective target practice and they will be more alert now that they do know. The Holland men also understood that they had to carry their state revolvers, which consist of a 5-inch barrel, instead of a 6-inch barrel, which the officers of other cities used in competition. The 6-inch barrel is longer and gave the other squads a slight advantage, for it is said that a longer barrel allows for better aim and consequently more true marksmanship.

Jack Van Hoff was also considerably handicapped, he says, on the range for he stood right beside of Ray Sullivan, the best marksman in the whole State Police force, and Jack says he couldn't help but feel a little "stage-fright."

Holland will remember Sullivan, who appeared at the Holland Theatre last year when the State put on a large movie purporting to drive against racketeers and against crime. It was a wonderful picture and the climax came when Sullivan in person exhibited his ability as a marksman with a pistol. Clay pipes, glass bottles, ashes from a cigar, the bull's eye in a target and a heart pinned on a dummy were all bull's eyes for the able Sullivan, in fact, like "Diamond Dick" in the yellow-covered novel of yesterday, he simply could not miss. Sullivan's lecture and his aptness with the "shooting irons" was very convincing and is well known to the crooks of the nation. Well, Jack Van Hoff also knew Sullivan and his ability. He surely cannot be blamed for getting a little nervous competing against the crack shot of the Nation.

The Holland City News feels that against such odds the Holland boys did a remarkable job, but why our small force of eight men should have been put in the same class with the State Police and Detroit, who have thousands to pick from, not counting Sullivan, is difficult to conjecture.

Here is the score:
State Police, 15 men.....1825
Detroit, 15 men.....1888
Grand Rapids, 5 men.....1763
Holland, 5 men.....1503
The shooting squad of the Holland Police have applied themselves faithfully to target practice. They have been coached by Herman Prins, whose ability with a gun has been marvelous for a long time. At intervals, and when not on the "beat," they have gone to the range or to a convenient place in Holland where it is safe to shoot and have received instructions from Mr. Prins, who has been willing to give his time and of his knowledge to the Holland officers.

John Donnelly and "Dixie" Hyma of the Police Board, who are also very much interested in target practice, have given the local squad much encouragement. Chief Van Ry, naturally, is doing everything to make his men adepts with the pistol. The Holland Police Department is far better equipped now than when a hold-up took place some three years ago, and what is more, the weapons are now in the hands of able men who have learned a lot since that eventful day, and it might be said that "as preparedness prevents war among nations, preparedness in police departments is a deterrent of crime." We are sure that a recurrence of a robbery or a hold-up here would find our men able to cope with such a situation, first because of equipment, and second because they know how to use this equipment.

The Holland City News wishes to congratulate the five men who made a fine showing, under many handicaps, and we know that Holland is always appreciative when fine efforts are put forth. When the next tournament takes place it is hoped that many of these handicaps will be removed and that the Holland police will be placed in the bracket where they are supposed to be. Anyway, the experience, even as it turned out, will prove to be a great help.

In Class B the team from Kalamazoo won the highest score. The Muskegon team won second and Jackson, third. These cities were placed in a class where there is a police force of less than 100, called Class B.

LONDON AND ROOSEVELT SHARED POPULARITY IN GRAND RAPIDS

Grand Rapids was the host last night to an illustrious guest, Governor Alf M. Landon, presidential nominee on the Republican ticket. All sorts of figures are given as to the crowd. Crowds at best are guess-work in a gathering of that kind. The whole area around the Pantlind Hotel, in Campau Square, extending for blocks down Monroe Avenue into Pearl, Lyon and Market Streets, was a sea of faces, eager to hear what the Republican candidate had to say. Loudspeakers conveyed the message to the further ends of these thoroughfares and everyone was able to hear the Republican message. There was plenty of flag waving, "red fire," band playing and enthusiasm typifying a real political rally.

The reception committee was headed by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg and Congressman Carl E. Mapes. The Grand Rapids police did wonderful work in handling the crowd but on one occasion the jam nearly got out of hand and Mr. Landon had to be escorted from that spot in order to have the crowd thin out. There was such pressure that several women fainted and it was a bad situation for a few moments.

The Landon demonstration as to crowds was repeated this Thursday morning when President Roosevelt entered the city on a special train at 9:15. There was a parade of bands and colors were flying and forty automobiles filled with leading Democrats and their wives escorted President and Mrs. Roosevelt over specially designated streets to Campau Square where the president spoke from the automobile to a crowd estimated at 100,000, and even some estimated a great deal more. But how anyone can make an estimate of such a throng of people is hard to conjecture. The square and the streets adjacent to the Pantlind Hotel were again filled to capacity for the second time within twenty-four hours. The President's message was also accompanied with enthusiasm from the crowd. Mrs. Roosevelt sat, smilingly, while her husband expounded the questions of the day. In this instance the Grand Rapids police also handled the large gathering admirably. It was a tremendous twenty-four hours in Grand Rapids and it will be a long time before Roosevelt and Landon are forgotten.

TRAVELING THROUGH RUSSIA AND POLAND

For the past ten weeks the Holland City News has been publishing a travelogue written by Mrs. Mae Van Drezer Bush, a former Holland girl, now the wife of Rev. Ben Bush of Detroit, who has been writing her mother, Mrs. Ed Van Drezer and sister, Miss Maude Van Drezer, East 10th St. The letters have been creating a great deal of comment and are intensely interesting. In this issue she describes her travels through Poland and Russia. The letters will continue for the next month, completing the trip through Europe and until the time they returned to the United States which was only two weeks ago.

CITY FINANCIAL CONDITION GOOD

Holland's record in collecting slightly more than 87 per cent of the summer taxes is the best gain in tax collections made by the city since the start of the depression. A total of $339,897.79 in city and school taxes was levied this summer and of that amount $296,094.04 has been collected, leaving a delinquent of $43,803.75.

The summer tax of last year was $344,597.24, of which $290,679.61 was collected in the regular collection period. A delinquent total of $53,917.63 was left for collection. The delinquent total is more than $10,000 lower this year.

The school taxes levied this summer figured at $148,872.28, of which $127,053.98 was collected, with a total of $18,818.30 due. The delinquent school taxes last year were $22,628.04.

DUCKS FLYING OVER HOLLAND SOUTHWARD BOUND

Two large flocks of wild ducks, estimated at 150 each, were seen over Holland Monday night, winging their way southward. They were in the usual "V" shaped flying formation. This is very early, as the migration period is at its height around November 1st.

The Lacey Studios have an unusual exhibition of fine art when it comes to photography. The Photographer's International Convention hold exhibitions at intervals in the best in photographic art in the world is exhibited. Approximately 4,000 photos are exhibited at these annual International Conventions and of this number judges select about 400 of the very best for traveling exhibitions and the Lacey Studio has seventy-five of the highlights of this traveling collection, which the public can come to inspect at their leisure and, of course, it is a welcome invitation. There are prize photographs from Japan, Italy, England, Ireland, Austria and many from our own United States.

The Lacey Studio had five pictures at one of these exhibitions held at Chicago. It is the best work by photographers everywhere that is shown at the exhibitions and also in the travel exhibits. Mr. Lacey wants the public to see what wonderful work is being done by photographers in general and the high place that photography has assumed in this nation.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The school census of Holland township gives 1044 children. Note: That was when the township extended from Zeeland to the east, Allegan county to the south, Olive township to the north and Lake Michigan to the west. Since that time Holland township was cut in two, the west half now being Park township. The dividing line now is the old Graefschap road, intersecting just east of the John Telling home on US-31, Park Road.

Republicans held their county convention at Grand Haven and Arie Woltman of Holland was named sheriff. George D. Turner, Grand Haven, clerk; Wm. F. Kelley, register; E. P. Gibbs, treasurer; Attorney Walter I. Lillie, prosecuting attorney; W. G. Van Slyck and Attorney Arend Visser of Holland, circuit court commissioners; Dr. O. E. Yates of Holland and C. W. Gray, coroners; J. E. Brayton, surveyor; Gerrit J. Diekema, Holland, representative 1st district; J. V. B. Goodrich, representative 2nd district. There was no Democratic ticket in the field but rather a Union ticket, a fusion of all parties to "down" the Republicans. Union candidate John Roost of Holland was opposed to Gerrit J. Diekema for the state legislature. Joe Verplanke, Holland, veteran of the Civil War, opposed Arie Woltman, also of Holland. Verplanke being on the Union ticket. The Republicans of Ottawa, Kent and Ionia had put up Attorney Geo. W. McBride, formerly of Holland, then of Grand Haven, to run for congress. The Democrats of Kent and Union party of Ottawa had selected Melbourne H. Ford, a Grand Rapids attorney, to oppose McBride. R. A. Hyma, Union candidate (father of Albert Hyma, Republican supervisor of Holland Town today), opposed Geo. D. Turner of Grand Haven for clerk. Mr. Hyma has passed on but Geo. D. Turner still lives on and must be in the nineties. It was a strange election that followed in November—the results and issues were rather unusual but we will tell you about it next month on the proper date.

College avenue is to be paved from 6th street to 18th street. Also 12th street from Lincoln avenue to the east and Lake street to the west.

The lot just west of the city hall owned by Capt. Peter DeBoer, has been purchased for $1,600 by the city. Unity lodge of Masons also had an option on this property and were contemplating the erection of a Masonic Temple. However, the local order graciously withdrew when they heard that the city needed the property for expansion. Note: The Board of Public Works has since built a storehouse and garage on this property. Later the city purchase added property to the south of the city hall and now owns all the property on River avenue to 12th street.

Xavier F. Sutton, 70 years old, died of heart failure. He was proprietor of the Atlas hotel and conducted a bottling works. He built the beautiful home on the northwest corner of Central avenue and 10th street, some time ago. Note: Mr. Sutton was Holland's second brewer. He brewed beer in a wooden structure on 10th street near Pine avenue and sold out the brewery to the late veteran brewer, Anton Seif, who in reality built a sizeable brewery on that site later. Mr. Seif brewed beer until the 18th amendment passed and Volstead killed the business. Walter Sutton of Holland was the only son of Xavier Sutton. The home spoken of was used for a time as a Hope "frat" house.

Indian summer strikes us as the best thing the Indians ever did.

Mayor E. P. Stephan, Geo. Van Duren and Chris Nibelink will represent Holland on the board of supervisors during the October session. Many tax matters concerning this city will be gone over.

James A. Brouwer, the furniture man, was appointed a member of the Board of Education to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry Vander Ploeg, the bookstore man. Note: The latter at one time was treasurer of Holland.

Bomers & Smeenge, contractors, have secured the contract to build Trinity church. Their bid was $11,868.00. Ground for the new church on Central avenue has already been broken. The heating ment proved to be awkward and embarrassing to players and audience alike and practically spoiled the play. The Fennville concert band also came to town and with Lambert's quintette, did their best to make the musical part of the entertainment, at least, enjoyable.

The installation of Rev. Dr. Am Vennema, new president of Hope College, will undoubtedly be deferred until next June and will be one of the outstanding events during commencement week next year. This will give many alumni an opportunity to be present which is impossible at this time.

HOLLAND'S FINANCIAL STANDING REPORTED

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a complete annual statement of the City of Holland, its indebtedness, as this relates to bonds, its expenditures, in short, its whole financial standing. The report covers two pages and is a very flattering statement. It would be well for citizens to go over this report at their leisure and lay the copy aside for future reference. Anyone wishing a copy of the Holland City News containing the statement can get it at this office or at the office of the City Clerk.

AGED MAN HURT IN 14-FOOT FALL

Albert Ensing, eighty years of age, who lives with relatives three miles northeast of Zeeland, is in a serious condition after falling fourteen feet from a second story window of his home last Saturday night. Early Sunday morning John Ensing, his nephew, with whom he is staying, found him lying on the ground below the open window in an unconscious condition. Mr. Ensing did not regain consciousness until Monday. The exact time of the accident is not known.

No bones were broken but Mr. Ensing suffered from shock and bruises and it is feared that pneumonia may develop. Mr. Ensing is well known in this vicinity as he has lived in Zeeland Township all his life.

Did you ever hear of a person born with a "silver spoon in his mouth?" Well, here is an illustration, for the Sibyl society at Hope has surely been lucky in many ways. Recently the society received a fine gift—namely, a mahogany piano. The instrument was donated by Weiser & Sons, piano manufacturers, in Chicago. Mr. Weiser is the uncle of one of the Sibyl girls, which undoubtedly explains the pleasing contribution.

Mrs. L. E. Van Drezer has disposed of her vast property on West 8th street. It is the place where her late husband has been conducting a restaurant for a quarter of a century. The building has been occupied recently by William Davis and Stephan Panos for a hat cleaning and shoe shining parlor. These men purchased the building from Mrs. Van Drezer. Note: Today it is the Martin Clothing Store. A brick structure was built on the site later by Walter C. Walsh.

Miss Ruth McClellan of Holland and Henry Zweeping of Flint were quietly married at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. J. P. Bowerman. Both are graduates from Hillenhigh and Mr. Zweeping went to Flint to take charge of a Holland Furnace Co. branch. Miss McClellan was also a graduate from Ypsilanti State Normal and taught for a time in Lincoln school.

During the severe storm a few days ago the cottage "Ben Hur" at Highland Park, Grand Haven, owned by Judge Orien S. Cross, was struck by a lightning bolt. The interior of the cottage was badly wrecked but no one was at home so no one was hurt. The judge was holding court at the time of the storm and Mrs. Cross was busy shopping. Note: "Ben Hur," the mighty Roman and intrepid character, was the only one damaged, it appears.

Bernard D. Hakken has been appointed by the fact that he was appointed by the Board of Foreign Missions in the Reformed church that he will be sent to Arabia as a missionary. He graduates from the Western Theological Seminary next May. Note: Mr. and Mrs. Hakken are here now on a furlough, 15 years later.

"Baskin' in the sun" flower, as it were.

Farmer Gored To Death By An Angry Bull

J. C. WILTENBURG, 70, OF CONKLIN VICTIM OF ATTACK

Gored in the right side by an angry bull which he was attempting to chase back into the barn, J. C. Wiltenburg, 70 years old, lifelong farmer of Chester township, Ottawa county, died of his injuries at his home about 11 a. m. Tuesday half an hour after the animal attacked him.

Mr. Wiltenburg discovered the bull had broken out of the barn into the barnyard, when he went out to get some wood. He attempted, without use of a weapon, to drive the bull into the barn, and the animal turned on him, goring him and crushing his right side.

Attracted by Mr. Wiltenburg's cries, Mrs. Wiltenburg ran from the farm home, and with the aid of a pitchfork, succeeded in driving the animal away from her husband and into the barn. When Mrs. Wiltenburg came to her husband's assistance, the bull was still standing over him.

Mrs. Wiltenburg dragged her husband to the barn and called a doctor. He remained conscious until shortly before he died. Sons of the aged farmer who live in Conklin said the bull had been known as a vicious animal.

Mr. Wiltenburg was born in Chester township, Dec. 25, 1865, and had always lived in the vicinity of Conklin. His farm is located about two miles east of this community. He and Mrs. Wiltenburg were looking forward to celebrating their golden wedding anniversary also on Dec. 25 the date of his birth.

Surviving besides the widow are four sons, Rev. William Wiltenburg of New York City, and Cornelius Carl and Amiel Wiltenburg all of Conklin, and five daughters, Mrs. Olive Kiefoeth of Chicago, Mrs. Alvin Miller, Mrs. Harry Wolterson and Miss Helen Wiltenburg all of Conklin, and Miss Nellie Wiltenburg, at home.

Funeral services for John C. Wiltenburg will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the residence and at 2:30 at Trinity Lutheran church, in which he long had been active. Burial will be in the church cemetery near by.

HOLLAND ARTIST WELL RECEIVED AT ZEELAND LIT.

The Zeeland Literary Club opened their year's work Tuesday afternoon with a musicale presented by Miss Ruth Keppel of Holland. The club rooms were beautifully decorated with autumn flowers. Mrs. Dewey, president of the club, presided.

Miss Keppel presented an instructive paper on "History and Development of the Violin." In part she stated, "Kelmholtz called the violin the only perfect result of human creation and since it made its appearance some 300 years ago, the world has not tired of bestowing upon it, its unmeasured favor." She traced the origin of the violin up to the time of the illustrious makers of Cremona, Italy, Amati, Guarneri and Stradivarius, the Michael Angelo of violin making. "Stradivarius' supreme achievement in making violins is due to extreme care and finish of details, masterly combination of all factors for production of beautiful instruments possessing glorious tone."

Of the rarest violins in existence, half are now in America. She gave the history of some of the most famous violins, including "The Bet's Stradivarius," "The Messiah" and the makers last violin, "The Swan." The world today would possess only a few of the old violins from Cremona had it not been for one man, a poor wandering Italian peddler named Tarisio.

Miss Keppel presented the following violin numbers, accompanied by Miss Evelyn Beach: "Concerto in E Minor" by Mendelssohn; "Allegro"; "Andante"; a Russian group—"Andante Cantabile" by Tchaikowsky; "Hindoo Chant" by Rimsky-Korsakov; and "Paraphrase on Russian Folk Songs." The program closed with the Schubert "Ave Maria."

HOLLAND COMMITTEE AND SUPERVISORS ON IMPORTANT MISSION

Road Commissioner Will Be Appointed Friday; Several Candidates From South Ottawa

Ottawa county supervisors convened Monday morning for the annual October session. The annual appropriations, adoption of the budget and various other important matters came up at this time. Three applications were received for member of the Ottawa county Road commission as the term of Harold Kamp, Zeeland, member of the board since its inception nearly 20 years ago, expires. The applicants are David Verecke, Zeeland, former mayor of that city; Nicholas Hoffman, Holland, former restaurant man and Fred Klumpen, Holland and Wm. Winston of Park township.

Carl E. Bowen, county engineer, submitted the annual report of the road commission. He also requested the board appropriate $25,975 to supplement $98,969 from the federal government for three proposed county road projects.

He explained that the commission had no funds with which to execute the proposed projects but he had had assurance that WPA might favor the work providing the county would appropriate the above amount.

Projects Outlined

He outlined the projects as: a garage 50 by 100 feet to be built near Coopersville, similar to the one constructed several years ago at Zeeland. Construction of a bridge over Crocker Creek between Nunica and Coopersville to replace a 16-foot wooden bridge which has long since outgrown the increasing traffic at a dangerous point on a county road. The bridge he recommends would be a 72-foot two-span concrete bridge. The third project would be improvement of 22 miles of county road in 12 different locations in the county, each one recommended by the supervisors of the particular townships where the roads lie.

He explained that work would cover 12 months and that it would require 158 men for that length of time. He pointed out that the appropriation asked for would be much less expensive than welfare costs which might have to be expended providing these men were not provided with work.

The report and the request were laid on the table for further consideration.

Other reports submitted were from the auditing committee, Jack Spangler, probation officer, and (Continued on Page Four)

SENATOR VANDENBERG ON THE AIR SATURDAY

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg will deliver a radio address at 8:30 to 9:00 o'clock on Saturday night, October 17, which promises to be a high light in the campaign, it is said. His subject has not been announced, but word is being passed that it will certainly be worth listening to, for every citizen, no matter which party the listeners are affiliated with.

The senator is a forceful speaker and his delivery on the air Saturday undoubtedly will be interesting no matter what his subject may be. Senator Vandenberg, it is said, has one of the best and most distinct radio voices in this nation today.

Senator Vandenberg will speak over the Columbia network, including radio stations WBBM Chicago and WJR Detroit, between the hours of 8:00 and 9:00 p. m. if arrangements can be made for that time, otherwise it will be a half hour later, but he will be heard.

John Bird and family of Saugatuck will leave soon for Florida, going in their cruiser Wander-Bird. Their route will follow the Chicago canal, Mississippi river and the Gulf of Mexico. E. L. Springer left Sunday with the Carol to take the same route and will await the Birds at Memphis. They will proceed together to Florida.

John Zwearing, age 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Zwearing of Holland, narrowly escaped serious injury Wednesday evening when he was struck by the car driven by Harold Essenburg of Holland. The lad, who darted out into the street in front of Essenburg's car, was thrown to the pavement, receiving lacerations of the face and a cut lip and is suffering from shock. It is not considered critical.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carley of East Ninth St., spent the week end with friends in Chicago. Staff members of the Eutha Rebekah lodge will meet in the hall for practice at 7:30 o'clock Friday night.

FACTORY AT HOLLAND GETS GERMAN CARGO

The S. S. Waterloo docked Monday at the Austin Harrington wharf in this city, finishing its trip from Germany with a 900-ton load of potash for the Smith Agricultural Chemical Co. of Holland. The boat left Germany about Sept. 15, coming to Holland via Montreal. For the last three years, annual shipments have been received from Germany by the local firm. A customs officer from Grand Haven inspected the cargo. Dick Miles, local plant manager, said the increase of business requires the construction of a $10,000 addition. The local plant, one of four the concern has, has outgrown its capacity. It produces a chemical fertilizer. Other plants are in Saginaw, Columbus, Ohio and Indianapolis.

THE "PRODIGAL SON" COMES HOME TO HOLLAND

The "Prodigal Son" is to be in this City on Tuesday, October 27. That is to say, not the one that the Good Book teaches us about, but a version of that story given in "Holy Writ." This outstanding production will be given in Holland at Hope Memorial Chapel and music lovers are looking forward to hear this offering given under the auspices of the Choral Union Society, an organization filled with musical talent.

Maria Matyas plays the leading role and is an artist nationally known.

Maria Matyas, mezzo soprano, portrays the part of "Lia" mother of "Azael." Miss Matyas has played "Gretel" in the Hansel and Gretel

Opera Company for many seasons with tremendous success, and she will be heard to even greater advantage in this one act opera. Her splendid acting ability, gained from the active association with the Cincinnati and American Opera Company, and Chicago Opera Company, and combined with her lovely voice, and her natural talent makes her an interesting artist—her charming stage presence never fails to win the sympathy of the audience.

Appearing with Miss Matyas is Robert Long, tenor, who plays the part of "Azael," a Galilean in "The Prodigal Son." He possesses an unusually beautiful voice, rare musicianship, and an interpretative ability that has won for him recognition as an artist of unusual appeal. Mr. Long is a member of the Chicago Opera Company. When Percy Grainger presented his "Colonial Song" with orchestra for the first time in Chicago, Mr. Long was chosen by the composer.

John Bennett, baritone, plays the part of the spouse of "Lia." Mr. Bennett has an unusually beautiful voice and because of his experience in the operatic field, he brings to his singing a maturity of style and richness of background which are the results of a varied, colorful and highly successful career.

"The Prodigal Son," in which Debussy has set to music one of the most familiar and beloved of Biblical stories, will be presented in Holland for the first time. It will be presented with a simplicity of style, and the text will be sung in English. The melodious quality of the score, so youthful and sincere in its expression, combined with the poignancy of the drama makes a direct and deep appeal to the layman as well as the musician.

Tickets are on sale at the Hope College office in Gray's Hall and at Sells Jewelry store on East 8th Street near Central Ave.

Other numbers on the Choral Union concert course include a piano-duo number, Gillette and Micari, Tuesday, Nov. 10; Handel's "Messiah," Dec. 15, with a distinguished quartet of soloists from Chicago; a song recital by Margery Maxwell, soprano, Jan. 26; closing with the appearance of "The Little Philharmonic Orchestra," March 1.

the state supervisors' association. Ottawa county supervisors met again Tuesday listening to reports by county officials and requests for appropriations from various agencies. It was expected the budget, a tentative draft having been placed in the hands of board members, would be formally presented late this week.

The board heard the report of the agricultural agent, the home demonstration agent and a request for money from the Starr Commonwealth school at Albion. The board usually appropriates about $150 to this agency.

Leo R. Arnold, able county agricultural agent, was reappointed yesterday morning at a meeting of the board of supervisors. There was no change made in salary. The county contributes $1,000 to Mr. Arnold's salary for traveling expense, his salary contributed through state and federal funds. The county also bears the expense of the clerk at a salary of $900.

Mr. Arnold has held the office since February, 1934, when he was appointed by the board following a brief interim when the office was discontinued. Due to the A. A. and other government processes it was found there was much need for a county agent aside from his valuable work in the county among the farmers, poultry raisers and boys' 4-H club work.

The selection of a road commissioner, school commissioner and school examiner will be made by the board this Friday afternoon following a motion made by Peter Ryenga, chairman of the officers' committee.

More Applicants

Elmer Christler, Georgetown, and Jacob Ellenbas, former mayor of Zeeland and member of the board of supervisors for three years, were new names added to the list of applicants for the road commissioner's office.

A delegation of representatives from the Coopersville Business Men's association appeared before the board yesterday to request favorable action of the board on the request of the Ottawa County Road commission for the erection of a county garage near or at Coopersville. L. J. Mulder was the spokesman. The cost is estimated at $25,000.

A committee of about eight will be appointed by the chairman, George Heneveld of Park township, to go to Battle Creek this Thursday morning in company with representatives from other parts of the county, to request the Kellogg Foundation committee to extend the work of the Kellogg Foundation into Ottawa county. Among the delegates will be Mayor Richard L. Cook. The members chosen will be volunteer members, who will not receive pay for their time.

Alex Van Zanten of Holland appeared before the board to request the committee be sent. He exhibited a petition bearing 5,000 names from all over the county which will be presented at the meeting in Battle Creek. He pointed to the splendid work of the Rotary club in this city in securing many of the names.

The securing of the foundation for this county, he said, will mean between $15,000 and $20,000 each year to be given to the board, with no strings tied, for the improvement of general health conditions. "While we have an excellent county health unit which has done outstanding work, still the addition of the Foundation would add materially to the work being done," he stated.

Cook, Supervisor Peter Damstra, Mayor Henry Geerlings, Supt. of Schools, E. E. Homecoming Will Feature Parade, Banquet, Pep-Meeting

Plans for Hope's 1936 homecoming event are getting under way with a schedule for the weekend of Oct. 24 outlined by the co-chairmen, Jane Eldridge and Eklid Buys, senior student council representatives.

The schedule for this year is slightly different from that of the past few years. As is customary, the program for Friday night will include the parade of society floats and a pep-meeting in Carnegie hall.

Hold Open House
Following the pep-meeting some of the societies will hold open house for their alumni and college guests who may be visiting their alma mater. Saturday's events will be the football game with Kalamazoo, followed by an all-college-all-alumni banquet.

Chairmen of the homecoming program have agreed with the student council upon the plan of having one banquet instead of separate society functions on Saturday night in order that the alumni may make more contacts with members of other societies.

Evening Programs Listed
Allen Cook has been appointed chairman of the evening events. The vice-presidents of the fraternities and sororities are to assist in making arrangements. Wilma De Young and Victor Notier are in charge of the dinner and of the hall respectively. Lucia Ayers is to help in the arrangement of the program for the evening.

Correspondence with the alumni is being worked out by the vice-presidents of each society. It is expected that in this manner all graduates will be contacted so that this year homecoming will be one of the best in Hope's history.

City Inspector Ben Wiersma reported that scarlet fever quarantines were placed on two Holland residences last week.

The home is located on the corner of Twelfth and Columbia, directly across from the campus athletic field. The grounds, bordering on three streets, comprise two and a quarter acres.

As though constructed for society use, the house contains nineteen rooms and six baths. It is equipped with solid mahogany doors, tiled bath rooms, polished quarter sawed oak floors, and plush carpeted hall and upstairs floors.

The expansive dining room is adorned with mahogany enclosed imported murals. A chandelier, supplemented by candlestick wall brackets, diffuses a soft light throughout the room.

The reception room, the largest room in the house, is enclosed by French doors leading to the dining room, sun parlor and library. The room carries out the color scheme of maroon and brown. The furniture, a gift from the alumni, consists of a davenport suite, two lounge chairs with ottomans to match, and several occasional chairs.

Opening off from the reception room is the den which is furnished with a brown leather set. A fireplace lends an air of coziness and cheerfulness to the surroundings.

On the third floor is located the dormitory accommodating the twenty-five house residents. Features of the dorm are complete insulation, adequate ventilation and hot water heat.

The society will welcome its friends at an open house in November.

HEARS HIS BROTHER FIRST IN 23 YEARS

Hearing his brother's voice for the first time in 23 years was the birthday surprise given to Arrien Uiterwyk of Holland, R.F.D. No. 3, when he celebrated his fifty-first anniversary recently. He heard the voice over long distance on the phone.

Arrien Uiterwyk relates the story thus: "My brother Klaas and I came to America in 1913. We were separated when I was called back to The Netherlands because of illness in my family. I returned to America after the World War but was unable to find my brother. From that time until I heard his voice I had been trying to locate him, and he was trying to do the same for me. I finally found that he was located in Davenport, Iowa. It was from there that I heard his voice. We will soon try to visit with each other."

Beet Tops Make Cows Relish Feed. Says Ottawa Man

Sugar beet tops help balance the palatability of balanced rations, H. R. Andre, Ottawa county dairyman living in Georgetown, declared today in giving beet culture a new talking point in his favor. "The most perfectly balanced feed may lack palatability to such an extent that cattle will not consume it in sufficient quantities to yield profitable returns," Andre stated.

"Experience has led me to believe that a palatable, highly relished, chemically-unbalanced feed is sometimes superior to an unpalatable, balanced ration. I mention this point in the discussion of feeding beet tops because I think it is one point that is most likely to be overlooked."

Tops Bridge Changeover

"Beet tops are harvested and come into our feeding schedule at a time of the year when dairy cattle are probably making one of the most disturbing adjustments in the whole 12 months of the year. It is that period that is commonly referred to as 'between hay and grass.' And in addition to the necessary feeding changes that take place, there also is the necessary annual adjustment to stable confinement."

"I doubt if there is any other one feed of equal value in helping cattle to forget the freedom of the pasture or range, and help them settle down to winter conditions with so little loss in production as beet tops when intelligently fed."

"The small slice of beet that is cut off from the top of the plant with the leaves in topping the beet seems to contain very important elements which are not only relished by cattle, but which also act as a conditioner in producing a healthy finish and gloss to the hair which cattle retain for some time after the tops have been replaced with other feeds."

Herd Records Show Value

"Naturally, for best feeding results, we should use the same good judgment in feeding tops that we ordinarily observed in feeding any highly relished feed. I think most cattle will eat more than is good for them if carelessly fed, or given free access to the beet field. While I do not recall any disastrous results from excessive feeding, such as bloating and other forms of indigestion, I know it is not best to feed tops to excess. We have had best results from feeding beet tops in the barn just as we feed corn silage, and in about the same quantities by weight."

"Our own cow-testing association herd records for the past three years show the value of beet tops. Our average butterfat production per cow was 358 pounds in 1933, 382 pounds in 1934 and 396 pounds in 1935. I recall that in 1934 we had an unusual good crop of tops to feed our 19 cows for 3 months, while last year our beets were hit with the blight and the tops were fed only three weeks. It may not be fair to attribute the difference in these two years of 46 pounds fat per cow entirely to the good crop of tops in 1934. However, I do feel that it was a substantial contributing factor."

Miss Dorothy Cunningham was the guest of honor Friday evening at a surprise party at her home, on the occasion of her fifteenth birthday. Those attending the party were Jeanne Veeder, Betty Peterson, Violet Eberhardt, Donna Eby, Ruth Knutson, Louise Cunningham, and the guest of honor. Games were played and refreshments were served.

Many From This City Meet Gov. Fitzgerald

"JACK" SWEENEY OF SPRING LAKE WAS TOASTMASTER AT HOTEL FERRY LUNCHEON

SAYS OUR SCHOOLS TODAY DO NOT HAVE TO WAIT FOR THEIR CHECK AS BEFORE. "STATE NOW IN THE BLACK"

Many from Holland and Zeeland motored to Grand Haven to participate in a luncheon Friday given in honor of Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, who was an honored guest. The spread at the request of the governor was modest—a fish layout for which Grand Haven is famous and of which it has a lot, since boat loads come in every day netted by local commercial fishermen.

A fish dinner at Hotel Ferry is always a treat. The banquet opened with devotions and after the repast, Jack Sweeney of Spring Lake, newly elected Republican county chairman, took charge of the meeting. He first called on all the county nominees to be introduced and this was properly done, each receiving "a good hand."

Ed Brouwer, nominee for the state senate, gave a short but appreciative talk, stating that his speech would be short in order to give Governor Fitzgerald his full allotted time to speak. Mr. Brouwer stated that the overwhelming vote he received at the primaries was most gratifying, indeed, in fact, far above what he felt he deserved. He thanked the voters of two counties, which he is to represent at Lansing, for this loyalty and by their vote he felt that the citizens believed in him and that urged him on to do his very utmost in the state senate since such implicit confidence deserved nothing but his best efforts.

"Jack" Sweeney then introduced the governor, who graciously responded to the neat but short introduction of the Ottawa county chairman. The two hundred present arose in deference to the chief executive of the state.

Touching on what he termed the "highlights of state affairs," Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald briefly reviewed his term as governor and discussed the problems which confronted his administration.

"When we took office on Jan. 31, 1935," he said, "we had to be sensible. We knew that it was necessary to give a business-like administration of the state's affairs, that we had to conduct this business on a pay-as-you-go policy and live within our income and we had to do it without contracting additional debts and no new taxes."

He stated that it was a pleasure for him to go about the state these four weeks before election feeling that "we have kept faith with the people and that we have lived within our income and have money to spare; in fact, we are well in the 'black' rather than in the 'red,' the first time in years."

In his discussion of taxes and tax dollars he pointed to the difference of opinion among people as to federal, state and county taxes and that we are apt to think of federal tax dollars as something far remote from us. He said he wanted to remind the people of Michigan that the tax dollars being spent by the federal government in southern states was in part their money and that the state was receiving far less than it was paying out, and a tremendously larger amount was paid to southern states than what Michigan received. Michigan must help to pay for the southern overdraft!

Returning to state affairs, he declared, "we will continue to operate in the black every month that I am governor of the state." He said that the sales tax permits the state to operate more conveniently on a budget than previous taxes had and gave credit to his Democratic predecessor, William A. Comstock, for its enactment. He pointed out that the main necessity under the sales tax revenue system was to "conserve tax dollars."

He said that within the last two years Michigan had made progress along several fronts, particularly pointing to the old age assistance field in which an effort will be made to lower the age limit from 70 to 65 during the next session of the legislature.

"The poor house is out of date," the governor declared. He explained that he proposed to make it possible for husband and wife to live together in their homes by having the state's appropriation for the aged doubled so that all old people will receive $30 a month. The federal government matching this amount.

A Saturday Night Supper

By FRANCES PECK
Director, Heinz Food Institute

SATURDAYS ARE FUN in the fall. The long half holiday afternoons are filled to the full with active out-door things. Sometimes we hike along the crisp countryside or go nutting in the tawny colored woods. We may drive for miles and miles in the bracing autumn air, or then again sit for hours on sturdy bleachers yelling our football loyalties into the golden September skies. But whatever the afternoon holds for us, it has always the same ending—a hearty supper spread bounteously on a buffet table at home. A favorite menu of ours for these gay suppers begins with a steaming tureen of Clam Chowder—the real New England kind that comes ready-to-serve in shining tins. Then we have an old brown bean pot brim filled with Oven-Baked Beans and corn for the main course with a tomato salad of piquant flavors to complement it. A deep dish of spicy Apfelkuchen and a cup of hot coffee top off this meal to perfection. Try it yourself some Saturday evening soon. You'll find it's grand for family and guests alike:

- Clam Chowder (ready-to-serve)
Bean and Corn Casserole* Cubed Tomato Salad*
Muffins Cross Cut Sweet Pickles
Butter
Apfelkuchen*
Coffee
- (*) Indicates recipes given below

Bean and Corn Casserole—Place one large can Oven-Baked Beans (Boston or Vegetarian Style) in casserole. Arrange 8 small peeled onions in two rows, pressing them down half way into the Beans. Sprinkle onions with ½ teaspoon salt, and cover with ½ cup Tomato Ketchup. Pour 1-20 oz. can whole kernel corn (from which liquid has been drained) over all. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) for 1½ hours. About 20 minutes before taking from oven, remove lid and top casserole with 4 strips of bacon or ½ cup buttered bread crumbs, and allow the bacon or crumbs to brown.

Cubed Tomato Salad—Skin 6 medium tomatoes. Cut each tomato into sections from top to within ¼ inch of bottom, making cuts ¼ inch apart. Turn tomato ¼ way around and make the same number of similar cuts, thus cutting the tomato in crisscross fashion. Place each tomato in a cup of lettuce, then separate the sections slightly and sprinkle with salt. Combine 1 cup shredded cabbage, 1 cup diced cucumber, 1 small onion, diced, 1 teaspoon sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 to 3 tablespoons Sandwich Spread and pile high on top of tomatoes.

Apfelkuchen—Sift together 2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, ½ cup sugar, 2 teaspoons baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt. Blend ½ cup butter with flour mixture. Mix 1 well beaten egg, 3 tablespoons water and 1 tablespoon Pure Cider Vinegar, adding Vinegar last. Stir the liquid into the dry ingredients. Roll to ¼ inch in thickness and fit into a large deep pie pan or a loaf cake pan.

Filling: Peel and slice thinly 6 medium apples. Add ¼ cup sugar and 1 teaspoon cinnamon to apples and arrange in the crust. Mix 1 well beaten egg, ½ cup thin cream and 1 teaspoon vanilla and pour over apples. Fold pastry edges over apples. Bake in a hot oven (425° F.) for ten minutes, then reduce to slow oven (350° F.) and continue baking for 45 minutes to 1 hour, depending upon depth of pan and apples.

Soon after the primary Townsends got together as delegates from clubs and discussed the situation. They had a merry row about it. Some of them wanted to endorse the Democratic nominee for congress while others wished "to keep in the middle of the road" with Racette; and very much did Mr. Racette wish to be there. So it was decided to do that but the delegates were far from unanimous. Whatever Mr. Racette does it is probable that Townsends will vote their old party tickets in the main, for either the Republican or the Democratic candidate will be elected. There are not enough Townsends to get Mr. Racette within a thousand miles of the goal.—Allegan Gazette.

Travelogue on Interesting European Trip

By Mrs. Mae Van Drezer Bush

August 5th, Russian Border

Dear Ones:

We have two hours to wait so I shall try to write a letter, surrounded by a great many people and much confusion.

This morning at nine we left Warsaw. I really was glad to leave as it is a very depressing country—the greatest poverty I have seen in Europe is here. I can well understand how 250,000 people left Poland every year when America still had an "open door." The sky was cloudy and it rained most of the day. A group of Polish women were at the station when we left. Each had a shawl arranged like a bag on her back. This bag contained several milk cans. Ben estimated each carried 9 or 10 gallons on her back. They were bent and haggard, most of them, and nearly all were barefooted.

The roads are dirt for the most part and after the rain today had many mud holes. Ben and I commented on the fact that traveling across Poland from west to east, we hadn't seen one automobile on a country road.

I have been reliving, all day, Raymond's book, "The Peasants." It is ten or twelve years since I have read that powerful story of Polish peasant life but much it came back to me today. At almost every station I saw a Yagna, a pretty, alert, superior girl, gay in a bright print, with her scarf tied on her head at a rakish angle. I could understand, too, why her old husband wanted to be taken into the orchard to die—the houses looked so dreary and bedraggled. And when I saw old women huddled beside a fence for shelter, hoping for a little protection from the rain as they watched their cows or geese, I remembered the old woman in the story who went from one household to another, hoping by some little task to make herself wanted.

And in contrast to all this poverty, I sat in a comfortable train and listened to beautiful music on the radio. By paying one zloty (about 25 cents) I could have ear phones and listen to all of Europe's lovely music; string quartets, symphonies, etc., but not quite all, for I imagine my astonishment to suddenly hear, as I gazed out upon the rain-drenched landscape, a man singing in English and American English at that "I Love the Raindrops." What a queer world! An American popular song in Poland.

We had a long delay at Warsaw, about an hour and a half to be exact. There wasn't enough room for the American Seminar so we watched the populace (and they watched us) and sang while the trainmen switched trains, and we learned our first lesson in patience. People in this part of the world think what you can't do today you can do tomorrow. Late in the afternoon we reached the Polish border Stolby. The authorities collected our passports, checked up on our money and sent us on our way, rejoicing. Armed soldiers were there in abundance, watching very carefully that no one left the train. Soldiers with pointed guns almost crept on their hands and knees looking underneath the train for people trying to slip across the border, I suppose. After a long wait we started once more.

There are several miles between the Polish border town and the Russian border station. This land between is a sort of "No Man's Land"—on each side or frontier is a barbed wire barrier. It is several feet in width and the wire is thickly woven. Each country guards its own frontier with armed soldiers.

The Russians, too, looked under the trains carefully for people trying to enter illegally.

Of course they, too, took our passports. These people study them carefully. At Warsaw the hotel authorities had them all night and had to make a detailed report on each passport.

At the Russian border we entered the large new custom house and went through a thorough inspection. You have to declare everything—films, cameras, money, jewelry, etc. They look through your books, maps, hold up your films to the light, in some cases read letters and look through your suitcases pretty thoroughly. You are given a written receipt for all the money you bring in and also a detailed receipt for any jewelry you may be wearing; for example, a yellow old watch, a white gold watch, a platinum ring. You can't take them out without this receipt.

The regulation prevents people bringing in writers, especially cameras, typewriters, etc., and selling them.

We take a sleeper at midnight for Moscow. Our watches are set ahead two hours here. Tomorrow at four we shall be in Moscow at the Moskva Hotel, a fine new hotel just completed. Each room has a bath or shower we are told so we won't suffer any privation in Moscow. I reckon we have our first touch of Russian propaganda here at the frontier. On the walls of the station in large letters two feet high and in several languages is printed the following: "Workers of the World, Unite!"

We are now in Moscow, a city of 4,000,000 and growing rapidly. But I want to tell you one or two things more before describing Moscow.

The same road Napoleon traveled with his army we traveled along. The country was pretty poor; poor soil and great desolation. I can well understand how and why the greater part of his army died during that retreat—starvation would be very easy in many parts of that journey.

We didn't leave the frontier until 2:45. They did allow us to get on the sleeper at 2:00 however and we could sleep as long as we wished in the morning. We had an interesting experience on the diner. It is very expensive traveling independently in Russia. We are traveling under "Intourist," the authorized travel agency, and they are doing everything for our comfort and security. We have a book of tickets and all we do is present one of those tickets for meals, sight-seeing, etc. Well, yesterday it was very hot and we ordered a bottle of lemonade. It was warm, insipid and had very little lemon in it, so Ben tried to get a fresh lemon. We ordered one and our guide said, "Certainly it is possible but do you know how much it will cost? Four and one-half roubles or in American money 90 cents. It is a luxury for us, too. A meal on the Russian diner costs $4 if one is traveling independently.

At four o'clock we arrived in Moscow. We were quite tired and very dirty after our long, hot ride. It has been very hot here, the hottest weather on record. It is all the more interesting as Moscow is as far north as Hudson Bay. Everything is very dry and brown. So a fine bathroom was a welcome sight. The Moskva Hotel is magnificent. It is very new; in fact, not quite finished. We go to the Metropole about a block away for our meals, which, by the way, are wonderful. No chance of being underfed in Moscow. We had the finest breakfast we have had in Europe this morning. It tasted delicious after the continental breakfast of coffee, rolls and preserves. We were assigned a suite—two parlors, bedroom and bath. All rooms have a bath which is unusual in Europe, you know. The rooms are beautifully furnished, oriental rugs on the floor, radio, etc. Altogether too fine we think. Of course I understand perfectly why they are doing all this. U. S. R. wants tourists, especially American tourists and they know they will not come if the hotels are poor or the food bad. Anyone can come to Moscow now and have fine hotel accommodations and excellent food. They are serving us great delicacies—bowls of caviar, chicken, steaks, squash, etc.

We were met at the Russian border by our Russian guide who will stay with us all the while we are in Russia. Strange to say, his name is Mr. Dobbin. We are glad to have someone at our beck and call for we feel pretty helpless. None know the language and the alphabet either as far as that is concerned. In other countries you can recognize names of streets, hotels, etc. Here everything is spelled differently. For instance, the entrance to our hotel is Moskva, the Russian for Moscow. We are not obliged to have a guide with us. We can go where we please within reason; in fact, as we learn the city, we are all going about alone.

I think I had better warn you that from now on our letters may be slow. We are in far away Russia and the service is slow. Only one mail a day comes into Moscow. I shall try to tell you faithfully what we see—good and bad. I'm not a Communist but I have sense enough to see they can teach the world some very important lessons. I think I have never loved America so much as I do now. We have privileges no other country grants her people. I must get ready for dinner. All my love, Mae.

live in peace and security," he said, "and be able to afford a few luxuries."

The governor explained that the state appropriated $2,000,000 originally and this was matched by $2,000,000 of federal money for this purpose. Relief is being given 30,000 aged people, he said, and of these 4,800 are receiving $30 a month.

Governor Fitzgerald quoted Gov. John Winant, of the federal security board of the present administration as stating Michigan ranks at the top in security administration.

"For years we have been ahead of all states in taking care of the afflicted," he asserted, "and we were the first state to have our old age assistance law approved by the federal government."

At the same time, the governor charged that his democratic primary opponents had been "promising millions here and spreading dew and sunshine there."

"The people of the state are not eating 'baloney' today," he said. "They are investigating and analyzing statements before accepting them." He predicted that "everything imaginable" will be done by the opposition party to win the November election, and urged his hearers to be on guard.

"This administration," he said, "will campaign on the platform of performance and not of promise. The only promise I will make is that, if re-elected, I will endeavor to continue in the next two years as we have done in the last two. I believe the people will vote for continuation of common sense, sound government in the state and a return to sound government in Washington."

"The people are tired of having painted for them beautiful pictures which do not provide for their security. They want to live their own lives and do their own planning as clean, honorable American citizens. 'Common sense,' Gov. Fitzgerald said at the outset, should be the slogan of the campaign. He advocated 'sane business principles in government' and asserted 'the people want that kind of a platform because they have heard so little of it lately."

Fitzgerald said, "there is every sign to show we are right in this prediction." He told of his recent visit with Gov. Landon in Kansas were won on very narrow margins. President Cleveland in 1884 won a victory by only 1140 votes. Charles Evans Hughes in 1916 lost the election by about 3,000 votes. Ottawa county with a long record for Republican victories may be the means of turning the state and national election to a Republican victory by rolling up a large Republican majority. Personal work is of great moment these days, he concluded.

Rep. Ed. Brouwer, nominee for State Senator on the Republican Ticket.

and said "anyone who can see him and visit with him for five minutes cannot but be impressed with his sincerity."

"He is a man who goes to the very root of problems to seek their solution; he is not colorful or spectacular. Governor Landon is a man who thinks things through. He is seeking the welfare of the average man."

Concerning his own campaign, Fitzgerald said:

"I don't care who is running against me. I know the problems of the average family. I know what you want and what you need better than someone who never has come in contact with these problems, and especially a man who has 10,000 miles away while all this was going on."

Gov. Fitzgerald admitted he is "not 100 per cent against the new deal or against Dr. Francis Townsend." He conceded there are some good things in the new deal and that Dr. Townsend's theory has "made us conscious of the need of old age assistance."

"I am against the wasteful extravagance of the national administration," he said.

"You hear a lot of talk of federal money. Whose money is this federal money which is being expended? It is your money and mine. The people of Michigan are not only financing federal projects in their own state, but also several states below the Mason and Dixon line."

Gov. Fitzgerald charged that most of the program he laid before the legislature two years ago was blocked "by the 50-50 division of Republicans and Democrats in the house, with a few jealous Republicans cooperating with the Democrats. A fine, well thought out, workable program was partially wrecked because of jealousy. Give me a Republican legislature and cooperation," said the governor.

He gave an account of the financial end of his administration, asserting he found the state $6,000,000 in the red and has wiped out this deficit and shown a balance of $5,000,000.

"We'll stay in the black as long as I am governor," he promised. He said the increase in state revenues has gone to the schools of the state and promised that the schools will be adequately financed so that every school in the state may remain open for the full school year and teachers' salaries will be restored to their normal point."

If the schools' primary fund drops off, he promised, the state will make up the difference. The state this year, he said, is appropriating $500,000 more than it did for schools last year.

Gov. Fitzgerald charged his opponents are making extravagant claims of state's revenues. He said the correct figures are: Sales tax $44,000,000 for the year; liquor tax, $8,000,000, and delinquent tax collection $1,500,000.

Cong. Carl E. Mapes pointed to the governor with pride, saying his administration of state affairs was in direct contrast to the national administration in that it was keeping within the budget instead of spending $2.00 for every $1.00 that is being taken in.

He urged personal work among all loyal Republicans, pointing to past presidential elections that form because they have heard so little of it lately."

OTTAWA COUNTY NEWS

On Friday, Oct. 16, today, there will be an auction sale on the farm of Richard J. Machiela, situated 2 miles north of Beaverdam store or 3 miles east and 1/4 mile south of Borculo.

The Rev. B. J. Danhof of Drenthe exchanged pulpits with the Rev. S. Vroom of Zutphen, recently. Both pastors are very popular.

The Rev. and Mrs. D. H. Walters and son left for their home in Prairie City, Ia., Tuesday morning after spending a few weeks' vacation with their mother, Mrs. Anna De Groot, of Borculo.

Gerrit Diekema, of Borculo, who has been ill for several weeks is slowly improving.

The farm home of Henry Northhouse, near Georgetown, was completely destroyed by fire. It is thought caused by defective wiring. A few pieces of furniture were saved and that was about all. The best insurance is to have your electric wiring inspected from time to time, it costs nothing. The house was partially insured.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Van Der Wall of Forest Grove attended church services at Drenthe Sunday. Others were present from Holland, Helderwyk, Oakland, Hamilton and Alameda.

Grace Volink, Alberta Morsink, Sadie Korn and Irene Volink of Borculo who have been attending the convention of Reformed Young Women's societies held in Sheboygan, Wis., have returned much benefited by the meet.

John A. Prins and his wife, Hattie, of Olive township were awarded a judgment of $137.67 plus interest for taxes in a civil jury case before a Holland Justice, Nicholas Hoffman, Jr. A. Stegenga, also of Olive township, was the defendant. The interest allowed was for taxes accrued before the date of the sale of a farm to Mr. and Mrs. Prins by the defendant, Justice Hoffman.

On the jury were James Borr, Jacob Fris, Henry Rowan, Ellsworth Exo, and Arthur Van Elswegen. Attorney Nelson Miles of Holland represented the plaintiff while Attorney J. N. Clark of Zeeland, was counsel for the defendant.

The teachers of the Borculo Sunday school met for a business meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Laursma in Zeeland. It was a very interesting session.

The Spoken and Written Word—Acts 17:1, 5-11; 1 Thessalonians 2:7-12.

Henry Geerlings

What a busy man Paul was, and busy in spite of the most untoward circumstances. It is trying enough at times to be busy when no one objects to one's activity, but to be busy when there is opposition of the most unfair and malicious kind is a task worthy of the most patient and courageous soul.

Paul left Philippi where it was most uncomfortable for him and Silas, and came to Thessalonika, distant from the former city about forty miles. He had great success here in his preaching. He made a profound impression. He won many converts. Among them were many leading women. This meant a real victory. Whatever we may have to say about the common people, God loves them, we love them and we would not want to get along without them. It does pay to have some socially prominent people in the church if they have genuine religion in their souls. Converted leading women counted for Christianity. Indeed, Paul and Silas were so successful in their mission that they aroused the jealousy of the Jews.

When we come to analyze such a state of mind and such an attitude of soul we find that it is not for the cause if religion that they are in such a feverish state, not for the welfare of humanity. These Jews were jealous because it looked as if they were losing their influence and place in the religious community. It was not a case of being glad for the truth from whomsoever it comes, but rather you must not hear them, you must hear us. We have the truth. They have error. This state of mind is at the bottom of a good deal of modern religious controversy. You must not say anything against my views. They are sacred. Yours are heretical and dangerous. I am called to save the world. Listen to me. You are a kind of a religious interloper and are upsetting the divine order of things. Believe what I say and the kingdom of God will fully come. This seems to have been the mind of the jealous Jews.

Their method of dealing with Paul and Silas is the method of all those who cannot meet what they think is error with what they think is truth. Any method will do so long as it will get rid of the man with whom you do not agree and whose truth and philosophy has more influence than yours.

They found some idlers of whom there is always plenty in every city, to form a mob and set the town in an uproar. What did they know about Paul and Silas and the merits or demerits of their case? What does any group or any new order of any truth or any new order of things that opens shining paths ways to new and glorious kingdoms? What does any mob know about justice and sound judgments and how enemies should be overcome and transgressors should be dealt with? What contribution did any mob ever make to the welfare of society and the happy ongoing of any city? This mob certainly made a mess of the Paul and Silas case. When they could not find them, they vented their spleen upon Jason who had been hospitable to these traveling missionaries of the cross.

Paul and Silas were big enough not to let Jason suffer any further because of them. They were willing to discontinue their mission activities, and consented to being sent away at night. It is true that good people are so intimately related in the kingdom of God that often all must suffer for the inaction of the good, for which activity they are not responsible. But there are times when it would be manifestly unfair to make innocent people suffer, especially in view of the fact that continued activity will not at that time accomplish the ends in view.

The missionaries came to Berea, where they had a more amenable hearing. On the whole there seemed to be a better class of people there—at least they were more open minded and more ready to hear the word of God. Not only did they hear eagerly but they were stimulated to study the Scriptures. It is a commendable disposition of mind. We need hearers of the truth but we need also seekers after the truth. It is a good thing to prove upon the preacher and the Sunday school teacher. Hear them graciously and sympathetically and eagerly, but go home and study the Bible for yourself. If they have preached and taught the truth, deepen it in your own soul by the searchings of your own alert and questing mind. Do not take too much for granted. Confirm by your own spiritual searchings and your own spiritual visions. Too many deliberately false teachers are abroad today for us to run wild after any truth we hear, unless we know by comparison that it harmonizes with the word of God. The test and touchstone of all religious teaching is the Scriptures. There is so much more of hearing of preachers and teachers than there is of Bible study that we are mentally and spiritually confused. There are persons who keep a pair of scales in the house to weigh what they buy. Some such manner of weighing and measuring what we hear by the word of God would be immensely profitable.

think is truth. Any method will do so long as it will get rid of the man with whom you do not agree and whose truth and philosophy has more influence than yours.

SHE'LL STRAIN HER EYES

Noted scientists point out that reading under a lamp which is the only light source in the room is detrimental to the eyes. While you are totally unconscious of it, such a situation demands that the eyes constantly adjust and readjust themselves as they glance back and forth from the printed page. The result is eye-strain.

There should be a good general illumination for the whole room as well as good glareless light for a specific visual task. The I. E. S. Better Sight lamps eliminate sharp contrasts by throwing light up to the ceiling where it is re-directed to other parts of the room, as well as directing a diffused light downward.

PET DUCKS TURN WILD, THEN RETURN

Andy Myers, nature lover of Saginaw Bay, related a very interesting story to us this past week. Which calls to mind the fact that even domesticated wild ducks sometimes have a homing instinct regardless of their wild blood.

This spring two of his ducks nested out in the marsh in front of his cabin. Roaming dogs killed one of them while on the nest, the other hatched out 11 ducklings and for no reason at all died about a week after, leaving the brood orphans. Undaunted, Andy took the job over and mothered the little ducklings himself.

It was not uncommon to see him walking along the shore line with the little ducks at his heels. In a short time they grew large enough to venture out in the marsh and would swim around feeding on bugs all day but when evening came they would return to be fed by old Andy. One day to his surprise he noticed an old she-duck out in the marsh and she was doing her best to coax them away to return to the wild state from which they originated many hatchlings before. The little fellows seemed less interested in the corn of foraging each night and came to the cabin only after being called repeatedly. This went on for several weeks and then they turned up missing. The old wild duck had won out and stolen the brood.

Now Andy loves animals, be it dog, duck, or quail, and he often told us how badly he felt over his loss. Six weeks elapsed. While Andy was out fishing one day he noticed nine mallards flying around over his head and acting peculiarly. He immediately gave them the old call and to his surprise, they lit on the water and swam around his boat. His ducks had returned but only nine. The old wild one was missing. Now every evening he goes out to the marsh and calls. Back they come to be fed. He is working them closer to the duck pen each day and in a very short time they will again be domesticated after having spent a summer roaming the bay and being wild.

Chief of police, Frank Van Ry, testified further to the problem created by bicyclists in the city and expressed his opinion that the mayor's suggestion would have to come by way of an ordinance amendment. Commissioner Andrew Hyma suggested "bike tours" by the playground commission as a solution, but it was pointed out that it would not solve the problem of those riding down town and to school. Suggestions by Commissioner J. F. Donnelly and Fred Kamferbeek that the matter be taken up with the Parent Teacher's association were followed by a motion by Mr. Donnelly to bring the matter to the attention of the school board. The motion carried and the clerk was instructed to send a communication on the matter to the board.

Holland Fish and Game members honored Sam Althuis, one of the founders of the club in 1923 and for the last three years chairman of the rearing pond committee. Tuesday when he was presented appreciation of his work. As chairman of the ponds, Althuis visited the ponds daily since June 1 to feed the fingerlings being reared. In addition to that he has done much in taking care of the 300 small trees planted by the club this summer. The presentation made by Henry VanderSchel, secretary of the club, climaxed the day's work of transplanting an estimated 68,000 bluegills from the club ponds to open waters of the county. Twenty thousand were planted in Grand river, 20,000 in Rabbit river and 28,000 in Black river. Another transplanting will take place Thursday.

Mrs. Kenneth V. De Pree and Mrs. Henry Steffens, representing the Woman's Literary club have returned Manistee, where they went to attend sessions of the Michigan State Federation of Women's clubs convention. Mrs. Steffens was alternate for Mrs. Charles K. Van Duren, club president, who was unable to attend the meeting.

Mr. Van Kolken, a member of the park board, Mr. W. M. Connelly, a member of the tulip time committee and Harry Nelis of the Nelis Nursery, conferred on Tuesday, relative to the tulip bulbs received by the city for planting in the lanes for the next festival. A final check, of the order of tulip bulbs received here, was made. The Nelis Nursery had the contract for the new bulbs.

Drouth-Resisting Corn

Sore trials and emergencies often indirectly bring great benefits. Those recurring drouths have kept farmers of part of the great corn belt worrying. Dry weather not only discourages the growth of corn, it invites hordes of insect pests to prey on the dwindling crop.

But an employee of the State Department of Agriculture of Illinois announces production of a three-cross hybrid crop that cares for none of these things. Drouth doesn't affect it; insects don't like it and even the worst vagaries of Illinois climate do not disturb it.

Moreover, this new cane-corn produces heavily a seed that is relished by cattle and that is good for them. And as a fodder crop it yields better than 13 tons-to the acre.

All this seems almost too good to be true, but earlier achievements in plant propagation prompt believing anything the specialists in that line put forth as an official declaration.

Joe Geerds, of the Holland Ladder Co., motored to Buffalo, N. Y. on a business trip Wednesday.

Gov. Alf M. Landon

A striking likeness of the Republican candidate for President is this new crayon portrait, heretofore unpublished, the work of Artist Alfred Panepinto.

Col. Frank Knox

Here is the aggressive Republican candidate for the vice-presidency, as seen by the artist Alfred Panepinto.

"AS MAINE GOES—"

Celebrates Victory Over Couzens

DETROIT.—Former Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker, now the Republican candidate for senator, is pictured here with his wife and son, reading the returns which gave him a huge majority over Senator Couzens in the primary, and a far greater primary vote than that received by the leading New Deal candidate. His is confident that Michigan will elect Landon and Knox, as well as himself, November 3.

Col. Knox as Football Hero

Gov. Landon's Letter

Cheers Sick Youth
CHICAGO, ILL.—A fellowship of experience between Alex Oskirko, 17, and Gov. Alf M. Landon, Republican nominee for President, has eased the long days on a sickbed for the boy.
Alex was injured in a football scrimmage, osteomyelitis set in and now he is a chronic invalid, subject to continual pain. Gov.

ALEX OSKIRKO

Landon heard of the case in conversation with a friend. As a result, Alex got this letter:
"Dear Alex: Just today I learned of you. I want you to know that you have my deepest personal admiration for the magnificent fight you are making to regain your health and strength.
"You may have heard that, as a boy, I too suffered an accident in a football game while a student in the Marietta academy at Marietta, O. While not as serious as yours, that accident forced me to give up football playing.
"Keep your chin up, old man, and let's look forward to the day when you are strong again and we can sit down together and talk over the game of football."
"Alf Landon."

People who have tasted PATRICK HENRY are not asking "when real beer is coming back"! They know the time has come when they can get a fully-aged, fine, hop-flavored brew that rivals the best of the beers that were sold 25 years ago, PATRICK HENRY is mellow—it's brewed from the finest malt, hops and spring water and then naturally aged. Call your dealer for a case today—or go to the tavern displaying the sign—
